County terror 'weak link'

Minister steps into row after council tax no vote prompts warning from PCC

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN MP has said he is trying to organise a meeting with the police minister to lobby for more funding after residents rejected a council tax increase to pay for more police officers.

Andrew Selous, prisons minister and MP for South West Bedfordshire, said he is working on 'getting a date fixed' for a meeting between all the Bedfordshire MPs and police minister Mike Penning.

Last week, 207,551 residents voted against the county's Police & Crime Commissioner Olly Martins' plans to raise the police's share of council tax by 15.85 per cent to generate £4.5 million and pay for 100 more officers across the county.

After the vote, the PCC warned that the county was 'potentially a weak link in the fight against terrorism and organised crime' as it did not have the same number of police officers as other forces.

He also said the county was set to lose 135 police officers.

Since the no vote, the PCC has come under fire and faced calls to resign. Bedfordshire Police now has to pay £600,000 for new council tax slips being issued to residents.

Richard Fuller, MP for Bedford & Kempston, said the PCC had 'demonstrated extraordinarily poor judgement' in holding the referendum.

He added: "It is a shame that £600k has been lost from our local police budget by Mr Martins' ill-considered move.

"In his statement after the rejection of his proposal, Mr Martins said 'the underlying problem has not gone away'.

"Mr Martins has got that right but he fails to understand that it is him and his judgements that are the underlying problems."

However, the PCC hit back and branded his comments 'utter rubbish'.

He said: "I am now receiving a steady flow of emails from people stating had they understood what they were being asked they would have voted 'yes'.

"Of course given the legislation makes it so difficult to get a 'yes' vote, it is quite legitimate to ask why I risked a cost of £0.6m in holding a referendum.

"The answer is that the people of Bedfordshire deserved an alternative to a 12 per cent reduction in the size of their police force and the loss of 135 police officers due to the government's funding cuts."

The PCC received support in his criticism of the government from Luton South MP Gavin Shuker, who said he would continue to 'lobby this right wing Tory government, alongside other Bedfordshire MPs, to get Luton the fair funding it deserves'.

ARRESTED DEVELOPMENT: PCC Olly Martins has warned that the county could lose 135 officers

Mr Selous said officials had to 'accept the democratically expressed wishes of the people of Bedfordshire'.

On Friday, Bedfordshire Police announced they were going to consult staff on a possible merger of their human resources and learning & development teams with those from the Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire police forces.

A spokeswoman from the Hertfordshire force said she was unable to confirm if the proposals could lead to job losses until the consultation period was over.

Under the plans, a single team leader for all three forces will be appointed in July this year.

Final defeat for council in housing legal drama

BY CARL MUNGAZI
 carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COUNCIL has lost in the last stage of a planning battle which has so far left taxpayers with a bill for a six-figure sum.

The Court of Appeal has thrown out Luton Borough Council's bid to overturn outline approval given by Central Bedfordshire Council to a development of 5,150 homes and more than 200,000 square metres of retail and industrial space near Houghton Regis.

It follows a ruling last December by a High Court judge who dismissed the council's challenge as 'lacking legal merit'.

In total, £207,803 has been spent by both councils in legal fees over both cases.

A Luton council spokeswoman said the authority persisted with taking the case to the appeal court because it felt the cost of the legal fees could have been offset by potential access to 'hundreds of much-needed affordable homes'.

Following the ruling, Central Bedfordshire councillor Nigel Young has said a detailed comment would be made once the full Court of Appeal judgment had been issued.

The legal battle is part of a long-running dispute between the councils over the provision of housing for residents in both local authority areas.

Luton has argued that Central Bedfordshire is not meeting its legal duty to co-operate with neighbouring councils on planning matters. This issue was discussed at a separate hearing in February by a planning inspector who criticised Central Bedfordshire for not working 'sufficiently' with others over its development strategy. That hearing is now the subject of judicial review by Central Bedfordshire.

A Luton council spokeswoman said the authority would now 'consider what action we take next, and in the meantime reiterates its request for Central Bedfordshire Council to agree to mediation around Luton's unmet housing need'.

She added: "Given the urgent need for affordable homes in Luton, this action is about protecting the town's long-term future and employment opportunities, therefore we are very disappointed with the outcome of this challenge."

Selous holds on to his Ministry of Justice role

ANDREW Selous MP has kept his role as a minister in the reshuffle following last week's election.

On Wednesday it was announced Mr Selous had retained his position at the Ministry of Justice.

The South West Bedfordshire MP, who was re-elected last week with a majority of almost 18,000 votes, will remain as the Minister for Prisons, Probation and Rehabilitation and his responsibilities will include transforming rehabilitation, prisons, probation and the youth justice.

Mr Selous said: "I am delighted to return to the Ministry of Justice to take on such an important role which has a real impact on the public."

He will be working under the new Justice Secretary Michael Gove, and was first elected as the Prisons Minister on July 16 last year.

He becomes the second Bedfordshire MP to take on a ministerial position in the new Conservative government, after Alistair Burt was appointed as Care and Support Minister.

ILLEGAL MEAT PLANT SHUT DOWN

BUSINESSES in Luton are being urged to check their meat and poultry suppliers after council officers closed down an illegal meat plant.

Malik Nasar Ullah, 31, of Melrose Place in Watford, ran an illegal meat cutting plant from a shed in the Dallow area and was found to be buying large quantities of meat, processing it in an unapproved premises and selling it on to other businesses in the local area.

Walls, tables and equipment used for processing the chicken were covered in dried raw chicken and blood, and the premises had not been pest proofed and there were dead flies in evidence.

CLEARED OF ATTEMPTED MURDER

A DUNSTABLE man has been found not guilty of firing a shotgun through another man's window despite sending him death threats on Facebook just days before.

The jury heard how there was 10 years of 'bad blood' between Aaron Poynter and Dean McAdam but Mr Poynter said he had been walking his dog when the shooting happened.

Although Mr Poynter was cleared of five charges, including possessing a firearm with intent to endanger life, he was convicted of a sixth charge of possessing ammunition after police found cartridges in his kitchen cupboard.

The judge sentenced him to 18 months in prison, which will extend a jail sentence he is currently serving by ten weeks.

WOMAN STABBED DURING ROBBERY

A WOMAN was stabbed in the leg after she was approached by two men in an alleyway on Monday.

The 25-year-old was pushed to the ground before the men demanded she hand over her belongings during the attack between Ashburnham Road and Downs Road at about 9.30pm. The men then fled the scene.

The offenders are both described as black and were wearing dark clothing. Detective Constable Tracey Litchfield said: "This was a nasty attack and we're keen to trace those responsible as soon as possible."

Fight back on to save village's popular pub

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A VILLAGE is gearing up for another battle to save a landmark pub after the seventh planning application to turn it into housing was submitted.

The Bedford Arms, in Toddington High Street, was shut after it was sold to developers in 2011, around the same time as Charles Wells was raising funds for the £20m takeover of McEwans.

After six unsuccessful applications in three years, yet another has now been submitted - this time to turn the popular boozer into a three bedroom house. And yet again, it has yet again been met by fierce opposition by the villagers.

A number of complaints have been submitted to Central Bedfordshire Council and a petition, set up on Thursday by Alan Higgs and Dave Ward to save the pub, has also been passed around the village.

Mr Higgs said: "It was wrong for it not to be sold as a going concern, as it was a real community asset as a family pub."

Mr Evans added: "It's not the case that there isn't the demand for pubs in the village either. The Cuckoo opened recently and you can hardly get through the door, it's that busy. But it just doesn't cater for the game groups as the Bedford Arms did."

Wendy Hardiman, who was the landlady of the pub until it was sold said: "We were there for around a year and a half and were warned that when we took over it could be sold, as nothing was happening with it. But when we left we had turned it around."

"Other people wanted to buy it and keep it as a pub, but it was sold to developers. It's bad what they've done to the villagers, I feel like they're treading on the little man."

Central Bedfordshire Council's regeneration and business development and infrastructure group manager, Andrew Davie, said: "Clearly, there are strong feelings towards The Bedford Arms and the proposal to use it as something other than a public house. A public consultation has begun regarding this planning application and a decision will not be made before this period ends in early June."

Both the former owners Charles Wells and S.R. Wood and Son, who are the property agents for the site, did not want to comment.

Amazon centre creates 500 jobs

RETAIL giants Amazon are opening a new fulfilment centre in Dunstable this autumn.

The 310,000ft centre will create 500 new jobs, tasked with supplying Amazon orders across the country.

Following the announcement, John Tagawa, Director of UK Operations at Amazon said: "We look forward to our Dunstable centre playing an integral role in providing a first class shopping experience for customers across the UK, Europe and the world."

"We are delighted to be able to create a further 500 permanent jobs at our new Dunstable centre."

The new fulfilment centre will be located on Prologis Park, on Boscombe Road.

The site becomes Amazon's ninth distribution base in the UK and its second in Bedfordshire, joining the centre based in Brogborough, near Junction 13 of the M1.

Hundreds pay respects to murdered Adam

A HUGE crowd turned out this week to mark the funeral of a man found dead earlier this year.

A large funeral procession passed through Dunstable and Houghton Regis for Adam Fanelli, 31, from Dunstable, who was found dead near a travellers' site in Buckinghamshire on March 17.

Two men have been charged by Thames Valley

Police with Mr Fanelli's murder. The procession, which took place on Monday, started at around 12pm and finished some time later in the afternoon. On the day, Bedfordshire Police officers liaised with staff from Central Bedfordshire Council in 'reducing congestion & disruption'. The streets that were affected by the procession included Houghton Road and High Street in Houghton Regis and Chiltern Road and West Street in Dunstable.

Lollipop man has finally been licked

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carlmungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LOLLIPOP man who blocked a fire engine on its way to a 999 call has been sacked by the council.

Luton council said they have dismissed the crossing guard on the grounds of 'gross misconduct' following the incident outside William Austin School on April 13.

The lollipop man had been helping children and parents cross the road several times whilst firefighters were trying to get past to attend a tree fire in St. Ethelbert Avenue.

Bedfordshire Fire Service said a firefighter had to move the man and remaining pedestrians out of the way before clearing a path so the fire engine could pass through.

A council spokeswoman said: "Luton Borough Council has now concluded its enquiries into reports that a School Crossing Patrol Officer held up a fire engine on an emergency call on April 13.

"After following our due process, the employee concerned has been summarily dismissed on the grounds of gross misconduct."

Vile robbers hit mum with baby

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

THREE teenagers punched a woman who was walking with her baby several times, leaving her with painful injuries in what police have described as a 'vile' robbery.

The incident took place along a footpath in Houghton Hall Park, near Cemetery, Road in Houghton Regis at around 10.45am last Friday (May 8) when the victim was walking in a park with her baby in a pram. She was approached by three teenage boys who punched her several times and pushed her to the pavement.

They then stole the woman's bag, which contained a large amount of cash.

Detective Constable Dave Elias said: "This was a horrific attack on a woman and her child, which has left the woman understandably shocked and upset, as well as with painful facial injuries.

"We are urging anyone who witnessed the incident, or who has any information that could help us find those responsible for this vile crime, to contact us immediately."

The three boys were all on bikes at the time of the incident and were wearing track-suits and hooded tops.

If you can help police, contact DC Elias on 101, text 07786 200011, or call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

CCTV: Police want to speak to these two teenagers

Images released after bus attack

A SCHOOLBOY has been left with head injuries as a result of an 'unprovoked attack'.

Police have said the young boy was punched by two teenagers while on his way home from school by bus in Dunstable at 4pm on April 28.

Police have released CCTV images of two teenagers they want to speak to in connection with the attack (pictured). If you have any information call 101.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Time behind bars for perjury over shooting

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A WOMAN caught up in a love triangle cried in the dock on Monday as she was jailed for lying to a jury.

Nazeem Dad, 29, told the police that her drug dealer ex-boyfriend Shahzad Mahroof had threatened to get her accountant fiancé, Atif Ali, killed seven days before he was gunned down on May 20, 2013.

But when she and her sister Afjay Fatima, 35, gave evidence at Mahroof's trial at Luton Crown Court they went back on their statements and were treated as hostile witnesses.

In July last year Mahroof, a 29-year-old convicted drug dealer, was jailed for life after being convicted of conspiracy to murder.

The man he hired to carry out the shooting, Bernard Pillay, 42, was also convicted and jailed for life.

The two sisters from Argyll Avenue, Luton, cried in the dock at the same court where they appeared for sentence having pleaded guilty to perjury.

Dad was jailed for 12 months, while Fatima was sentenced to nine months.

The sisters gave lengthy interviews saying Mahroof had issued the threats, but when they were called to give evidence they said they did not know the person.

Elizabeth Dean, lawyer for Dad, said she had felt pressure because of her Muslim background.

The shooting has seen her disowned by her parents who have moved back to Pakistan and she has twice tried to commit suicide.

Right up your street

Royals reign in many of our road names

This week, Howard Chandler delves into the royal history of our streets.

THE recent naming of Princess Charlotte Elizabeth Diana of Cambridge leads me to consider Luton streets with royal links.

I have found 16 such streets, perhaps the most obvious being Victoria Street. More streets and states are said to be named after Queen Victoria than anyone else, with over 20 in Greater London alone.

This is not surprising as she reigned for 63 years, during which time the British Empire and patriotic feeling was at its height.

Leagrave had a Victoria Road until 1928 but when the borough boundaries were extended a new name was needed because of confusion with the existing Victoria Street.

Empress Road was chosen as Victoria was proclaimed Empress of India in 1876.

She did not attend the ceremony in her honour in India the following year, indeed she never visited India. I will leave readers to find the other street names with royal origins.

Will Luton have a Charlotte Street at some point in the future?

Hospice's plea for end to fly tipping

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A CLINICAL director at a hospice has said it is a disgrace that people keep fly tipping and blocking the entrance to their premises.

Liz Searle, clinical director at Keech Hospice, has pleaded for fly tippers to stop targeting the charity, after she found building waste dumped on the lane which leads to the hospice in Great Bramingham Lane, Streatley.

Central Bedfordshire Council, who said they are aware of the problem and monitor it regularly, sent workers to clear the rubbish on Monday.

Ms Searle, who has been at the hospice for three years, said fly tipping had been a problem since she started working for them. She said: "This is a regular thing."

"It can be anything from general rubbish to builders' rubbish at the moment."

"It does not make it any better but it's not even dumped at the edge, it's dumped in the middle of the road."

"People who come to the hospice come because they

LOAD OF RUBBISH: The entrance to Keech Hospice has been plagued by episodes of waste dumping over the past few years are in difficult circumstances but they have to slow down and go around it, and it's not the calm environment you want to create.

"We have patients that are transferred by ambulance and it's not safe."

Central Bedfordshire Council said they did not have any estimates on the cost of having to continually clear up the waste.

A spokeswoman for the authority said they took the matter very seriously and would prosecute where there was sufficient evidence.

Ms Searle added: "It's a very sad state of affairs when people do not care about others."

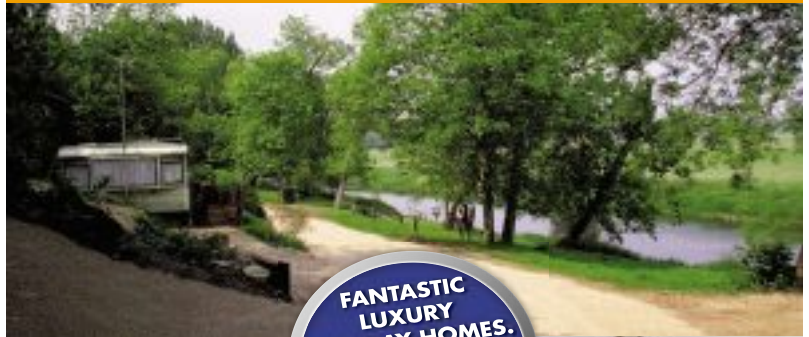

"I had to slow down when I saw it but the last time it happened I had to stop the car and actually get out and clear the rubbish."

"People should not fly tip anywhere, but I just want to put a plea out to say do not do it."

Olly out?

THE question that I would like answering is: following the emphatic rejection of the Police Commissioner's insistence on having an expensive referendum on whether or not to have an increase in the rates in order to have more police officers, will the Commissioner do the honourable thing and fall on his sword?

He must realise this is not the right time for his brand of left wing politics.

JEF

By email

Good luck, Gavin

NOW we can look back at the election we have to congratulate the winner.

Congratulations Gavin, but the misery will soon start.

Some however did not do too well. What happened to UKIP? Shortly after being endorsed by Bracklesham Gardens the magic isn't working for Mr. J.

Ms. Natalie Bennett, Greens, was reported in the independent as proposing legal marriage for the Ménage à trois (Household of three) situation. Why not go further and propose seven brides for one brother?

Howard Keel's voice (is he still with us?) and those fantastic dance sequences would be missing but perhaps Hollywood could help out.

I wonder what the ladies in Luton think. I would like to know.

'People's republic' of Luton

THREE cheers for the little red island of Luton in a dismal sea of blue!

Waking up on Friday morning, I think much of the nation will have had a morning-after-the-polling-day-before feeling. Swept along by a tide of Tory promises, the nation voted David Cameron (pictured) back into power - possibly without really considering what this meant.

We can probably kiss goodbye to the dear old NHS as we know it, not to mention capped university fees and many of the benefits and support which helps the poorest people in our nation to get by.

What a gloomy outlook.

And thank god for the people's republic of Luton - where people voted with their heads AND hearts.

I wish our local MPs all the best for what will surely be a tough five years to come, and only hope we can save society from itself.

Dis-Uniited Kingdom?

SO the Scots do want independence after all. What changed their minds?

There've been no new major oil discoveries off Aberdeen have there? Surely it wasn't Ms Sturgeon's makeover. No, just about the only thing I detected was the increased jingoism, drum-banging and flag waving antics of the Nationalists.

And it even continued after the results were announced. While clearly displaying even more hubris than usual Alex Salmond actually had the chutzpah to trot out from his 'Little Book of Politicians' Stirring Phrases' the unbelievably corny "The Scottish Lion has roared". What a twerp. But his pumped up supporters loved it.

If educated people can still be motivated by such vacuous devices what chance does civilised democracy stand? There should now be a British referendum to expel Scotland from the Union before the rest of us risk becoming infected by such non-sense.

My right to vote

IN past elections, I've voted for the Labour party, conservative party, even the Green party.

Once I just spoiled my paper. But I always made the effort to go and vote.

But I couldn't believe the prejudice that has been shown to people like me, just because I wanted to vote for UKIP.

In the end, I felt that the more people didn't like it, the more I wanted to vote for UKIP. It wasn't against the law, was it?

John Tucker

Enough is enough

I HAVE just about had enough of everyone going on about politics left, right and centre (so to speak).

We have a government, now let's get on with it.

Child cancer survivor dons wig for charity

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SIX-YEAR-OLD girl who survived a brain tumour is taking part in a campaign to raise support for other children suffering with cancer.

Zofeya Dorgu, from Kensworth, and her family will be sporting a wig this Wednesday for cancer charity CLIC Sargent's 'Wig Wednesday' annual fund-raising event.

The schoolgirl, who was diagnosed in July 2013, lost her hair during the surgery, chemotherapy and radiotherapy she had at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge.

Noemi Dorgu, her mum, said: "Zofeya's always had beautiful long, curly hair and she was quite upset when it started to fall out, so we decided that we would both go to the salon and get our hair shaved off."

"I didn't think it was fair for me to have long hair when she had to lose her lovely curls. I had no experience of childhood cancer before Zofeya became ill."

"It wasn't something I really thought about. But when you're on the ward and you

HAIR CARE: The Dorgu family said they have received 'brilliant' help from CLIC Sargent and want to help others get the same support see all these little kids who are so ill, babies with cancer, it's so distressing. So please wear a wig this Wig Wednesday and help other children with cancer."

The family received support from CLIC Sargent during Zofeya's illness and are hoping to help them raise money for social workers and nurses.

Noemi added: "Fighting cancer as a family is a long journey. Accepting the changes, including hair loss, is not easy as a parent when all you want to do is protect your child from pain and this disease, which suddenly changes your life forever."

"The amazing thing I have learned and seen over and over again is the courage of all those children who have to undergo difficult cancer treatment."

"They still smile and play when they are able to and haven't forgotten how to live in the moment."

AIR FORCE: On the ground and up in the air, Luton London Airport's team gives the operation that extra lift

What follows is a slowed down version of an F1 pit stop as the aircraft is refuelled, cleaned, unloaded and inspected to make sure it is ready for the next flight out.

The control tower provides a good view of this, including stunning views of the greenery surrounding the airport.

Noise has to be kept at a minimum in the tower as high levels of concentration are needed to guide pilots from the 13 different airlines using the airport.

The airport also has its own in-house engineering team which services all vehicles used to inspect the runway and transport passengers, as well as a team of electricians and plumbers. One of, if not the most unusual, roles at Luton is done by the airside operations team, which ensures there are no birds settling in the grass next to the runway. Every morning they shine a laser onto nearby trees to wake the birds and move them on.

As one of the airside operators said: "We're on their case from the time they wake up to the time they go to sleep."

COUGH, COUGH, COUGH: The bus is due for a service

Tests on bus seen emitting smoke

A BUS spotted spewing thick, black smoke has been tested to ensure its roadworthy, a bus company has said. Arriva said they were 'not aware' of any issues with one of its number 25 buses which was snapped in Old Bedford Road.

The firm said the vehicle's emissions were 'well within' the required limit and that all its buses were on a 35-day service schedule.

A spokeswoman said the bus, left, is due to be serviced on Friday.

Plea to bring an end to part theft

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WORRIED grandmother has called for more action over a spate of car thefts after another Vauxhall was stolen.

Katie Palmer, a nurse from Capron Road, Dunstable, had her Corsa stolen outside her flat on May 7 in the latest in a series of thefts involving Vauxhall models.

Her grandmother, Sandra Palmer, said 'it was not right' that thieves seemed to be able to steal the vehicles and parts easily.

Bedfordshire Police, who last year launched an operation into the issue, said they were still continuing their investigations.

A spokesman for Vauxhall said Corsas had 'no security or design issues'.

Referring to the thefts, he added: "This is wanton vandalism, if a thief is determined enough they can steal parts from any make of car."

Despite their assurances however, Sandra feels that the authorities haven't been doing enough to stop the thefts happening.

Katie, who only bought her car nine months ago, said: "At first I was really shocked and upset. Afterwards I felt really angry and frustrated."

"You don't really realise how much you rely on your car until you don't have one. I'm having to rely on my family to pick me up. I don't really feel safe in my flat now."

Sandra added: "I'm not sure how they are doing it. She's heartbroken."

Doctor urges need for business degree

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutonsunday.co.uk

A BUSINESS degree can help modern doctors deal with their increased responsibilities and workloads, a GP has said.

Dr Chirag Bakhai, 30, a GP from the Kingfisher Practice in Crawley Green Road is studying an MBA at the University of Bedfordshire and said he has been surprised by how much of the MBA is applicable to clinical practice.

Dr Bakhai, who is originally from Essex and studied at University College London, is among a growing number of doctors taking up the qualification in order to gain new skills to help them deal with the demands of modern healthcare.

He said: "There's a big demand for GPs and people cannot fill GP posts.

"In Luton there has been a struggle to recruit high quality GPs.

"When I talk to people about the degree they sound really excited. I think more people wish they knew about it. GPs are in a lucky position because more than before we can make decisions that can contribute to people's healthcare. In the last few years we have had more chance to influence healthcare because before, it was managers who decided where things were spent."

Dr Bakhai started the course in October last year, less than two months after he moved to the town to begin practicing medicine.

He is doing it through the Luton Clinical Commissioning Group's Future GP Leader programme.

Dr Bakhai said: "I've been surprised by how much of the MBA is applicable to clinical practice.

"I've gained greater insight into how people are effectively motivated and how they might respond to marketing.

"I've used this in practice to help my patients lose weight, stop smoking and improve their diabetic control.

"Thinking outside the box when handling really complex situations has been aided by techniques I've learned to mobilise my own creativity."

He also said that MBAs were not for everyone because of the time and commitment needed to complete the course, but added that they were hugely helpful.

He said: "An MBA is more important now for modern doctors than ever before.

"Healthcare budgets are finally in the hands of clinicians with on-the-ground knowledge of an area, while demand for services is growing and modern medical care is getting increasingly expensive."

Appeal for £250k Nepal disaster fund

A BUSINESS centre has launched an appeal to raise £250,000 for the victims of the Nepal earthquake.

Basepoint, which is in Great Marlings, has already sent £100,000 to the charity Shelterbox and is hoping to send a further £150,000 by the end of the month.

The company is offering to match any donation until its target has been reached.

Nepal has been struck by two serious earthquakes in the past month.

Strike grounds airline's shares

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A DISASTROUS April saw easyJet fall to the bottom of the FTSE 100 in the aftermath of strike action.

A seven per cent drop in share prices was caused in part by strike action by French air traffic controllers (ATC), seeing the total value of the Luton-based company drop by £540m as a result.

Workers were due to take action on March 26 and 27, but postponed their strikes in the aftermath of the Germanwings crash on March 24. However, they took action between April 8-9, which saw 600 easyJet flights cancelled, which played a big part in the hit the company took for the month.

The controllers also threatened action for later in April and early May, but while no action was taken easyJet CEO Carolyn McCall has said this had an impact on people's willingness to book flights in that period.

The cancelled flights saw a £25m hole blown in pre-tax profits this year, which up until March had taken the airline £7m into the black, a very good performance considering the airline usually performs slowly in the September-March half of the year. It was their first profit for that period since 2002.

Mrs McCall said: "easyJet has delivered a record performance in the first half of the year by continuing to deliver its strategy of making travel easy and affordable for passengers."

Youngsters get the chance to shine and strut their stuff on the big stage

DANCE

GD*1

The Grove Theatre
June 4-5, 7.30pm

EVERY year for the past seven years The Grove Theatre has created a platform to promote the best local dance talent.

And this year it is going to be no different when the GD*1 night rolls back into town early next month.

From street to ballet, contemporary to ballroom, GD*1 promises to entertain with its range of dance styles all performed by local artists.

Among those on stage will be the NKB School of Dance, On Pointe Dance Academy, Tina's School of Dance and the Next Generation Youth Theatre (NYGT) (pictured right).

NYGT are sending two of their senior dancers to perform an extract from one of their past productions called 'Love for Dummies'.

Karen Windley, the Grove Theatre's education manager who is behind the event, said: "It was actually started before I joined the theatre by a lady who wanted to bring something into the theatre that was run by the local community."

"GD1 started seven years ago and now it's gone to the stage where it's a two night performance."

"We have held auditions and the three judges chose the acts that they liked, so it's going to be a full packed evening."

In total there will be 18 groups performing, with nine taking to the stage each week.

The evening is designed to nurture the next generation of dancers and give them crucial performance experience.

Karen added: "It's an amazing experience for the children because it gives them the chance to come and dance."

"We have a West End sized stage so for them to use that kind of venue free of charge is good."

We have got a wide range of acts this year and some new faces which is new for us.

"It's a social experience for them, they are meeting new people and it's good for the teachers to have their students there."

"The evening kicks off at 7.30pm and we have eight acts each night and they have a ten-minute slot to perform. We have a compere coming in this year so that the audience can know more about the groups."

What are the long-term goals for the programme?

Karen said: "Last year it was packed out. The only area we did not sell was the upper area but that was where the other dancers were watching from. This year we have already sold about 270 tickets for the first night and 350 for the second night."

"In the long-term I would like to run GD1 later in the year because, unfortunately, we cannot have all the groups that auditioned taking part.

"It's such a good dance event and we do not have many dance events in the area."

Tickets are available for £10 and can be booked by calling the Grove Theatre's box office on 01582 602080.

You can also find more information and make your bookings online by visiting the Grove's website at grovetheatre.co.uk

COMEDY

BARNSTORMERS COMEDY

The Grove Theatre
Thursday, 8pm

IT'LL be smiles and laughter all around this Thursday when three more top comedians pay Dunstable a visit.

Presented by Kevin Precious, Barnstormers Comedy has a line-up this week which includes Bennett Arron, George Egg and John Mann (no, not the Labour MP).

The trio have a wealth of comedy credits between them at places such as the Edinburgh Festival, Glastonbury and The London Palladium.

Up first is the Jewish-Welsh funny man Bennett Arron, who is also an award-winning writer and actor who recently supported Ricky Gervais on some of his tour dates. He has performed on Loose Ends, Not Tonight With John Sergeant, Glee Time, Large, Never Write Off The Germans, and was a presenter on Big Brother's Little Brother.

Bennett is followed by George Egg who is well known for possessing a large briefcase which contains an arsenal of ridiculous props.

JOKES AT THE READY: John Mann, main picture, joins Bennett Arron, centre, and George Egg for a night of comedy

He is also famous for bounding on the stage full of energy and some critics have hailed him as a Tommy Cooper for the 21st Century.

George has been a professional stand up comedian for the last two decades and has toured in Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Spain, Austria, France and extensively in the United Kingdom, and more recently has been the support act for Lee Mack, Mickey Flannagan and Jack Dee.

Lastly, John Mann will be bringing his observation skills and wit to the party.

Some of the topics he's been known to discuss include the senile antics of senior citizens or giving handy hints to aid successful shop-lifting.

John is also a longstanding compere and headliner for the Jongleurs act and has worked all over the world, including monthly residencies in the UK at The Rhodes Arts Complex in Bishop's Stortford, The Square in Harlow and High Barn in Great Bardfield.

Advance tickets cost £12.50 but you can also pay on the door for £15. Call the Grove Theatre's box office on 01582 602080 to make a booking or go online at grovethetre.co.uk

TENNIS

GREAT BRITISH TENNIS WEEKEND

Various Venues

May 16-17, June 13-14 and August 1-2

THE Great British Tennis Weekend is back and it will see courts across the land serve up free tennis for families and friends over three weekends this summer.

Starting this weekend, parks and clubs will offer free opportunities to anyone who wants to learn tennis and pick up a racket.

People will get the chance to take part in sessions including cardio tennis, highland spring mini tennis and tennis coaching, which are being provided for free as part of the LTA and Tennis Foundation's drive to get more people playing more often.

Venues will be providing rackets, balls and any other equipment.

Participating venues offering free tennis this weekend include the Luton & Vauxhall Tennis Club, Dunstable Tennis Club, Redbourn Public Tennis Club, Barton Tennis Club and the Codicote Tennis Club.

The events are on the following weekends: Saturday 16 - Sunday May 17, Saturday 13 - Sunday June 14 and Saturday 1 - Sunday August 2.

Nina Bridge, the regional participation manager at LTA, said she hoped families would take the opportunity to take part in these fantastic events and ready themselves for what is set to be Luton's biggest ever summer of tennis.

Reserve your free place at www.lta.org.uk/gbtw.

Quartet play it straight in tribute to iconic jazz pianist Thelonius Monk

MUSIC

STRAIGHT NO CHASER

The Bear Club, Luton
Saturday, May 23

PERFORMING the works of the great jazz pianist Thelonius Monk, Straight No Chaser make their return to The Bear Club later this month.

Named after Monk's seminal album, the quartet from Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire play tribute to his works.

Saxophonist Paul Jolly, who also runs Luton jazz label 33 Records, said: "Everyone in this band has previously played some of Monk's work in their normal gigs, but when we formed Straight No Chaser it was the first time any of us had done a gig where we solely performed his compositions."

Straight No Chaser formed 18 months ago and have been performing across Bedfordshire, Hertfordshire and further afield since.

Monk loved to hear others perform his music, which is a reason for the quartet celebrating his creations.

Mr Jolly added: "The performances are still a challenge, which gives you an idea of what an amazing guy and musician he was."

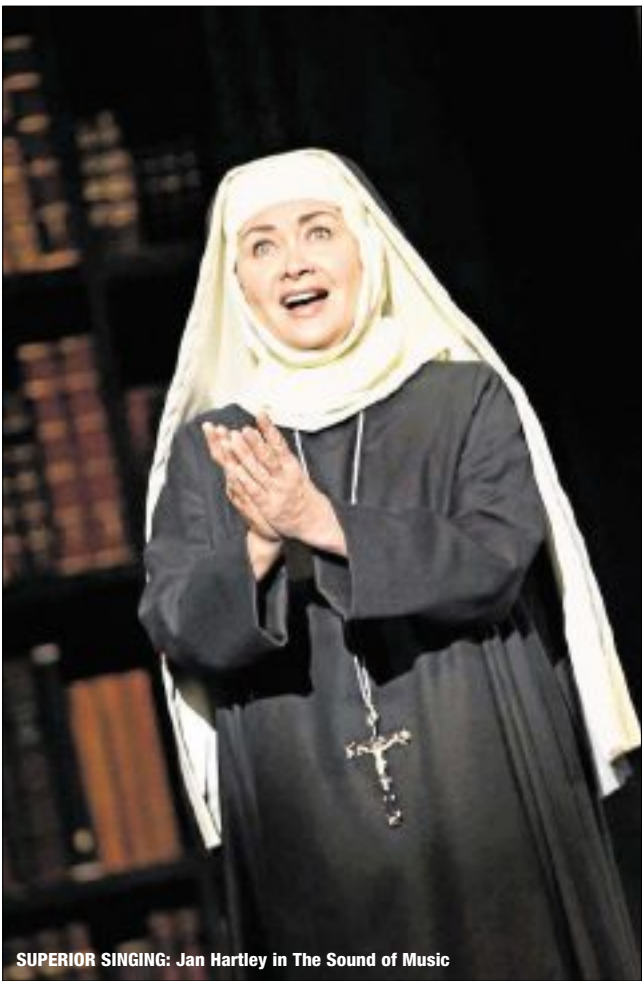

"He's a huge influence on music as a composer."

Since The Bear Club opened last year, it has put on a number of jazz and blues gigs.

Mr Jolly added: "A new jazz club was sorely overdue, as for a long time there has been nothing of the sort in Luton, since the 33 Records club closed back in 1998."

"The Bear Club has been great since it opened and I helped out in its early days, putting on a number of different shows, not just limited to jazz but also roots and blues."

Doors open at 7pm, with music starting at 8.30pm. Tickets are £5, or £4 for concessions. Club members get in for free.

THEATRE

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

Milton Keynes Theatre
May 26- June 6, 2.30pm and 7.30pm

CELEBRATING 50 years since the film, The Sound of Music is once again taking to the stage.

The story of Maria and the Von Trapp family was adapted into one of the most loved movies of all time. The original Tony Award winning musical is coming to Milton Keynes as part of a UK tour.

It tells the story of the world famous singing von Trapp family and a former novice nun, Maria, who joined the family as governess to the children and fell head over heels in love.

But with a world war imminent and the rise of the Nazi party in Germany an ever growing menace, life in their beloved Austria, a country on the brink of being swallowed up by the Third Reich, became as dangerous as it was romantic.

Playing the iconic role of Maria Von Trapp in this new production is Danielle Hope, who captured the hearts of this country when she won BBC Television's Over the Rainbow and made her professional debut as Dorothy in the Wizard of Oz at the London Palladium.

Well known for his long-standing television roles in Coronation Street and London's Burning, Olivier-Award nominated actor Steven Houghton is Captain Von Trapp.

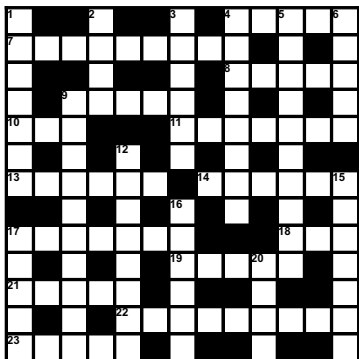

Joining Danielle and Steven and the rest of a talented cast are West End stars Jan Hartley as the Mother Abbess and Sarah Soetaert as Baroness Elsa Schrader.

The unforgettable score features some of the most memorable songs ever performed on stage, including Edelweiss, My Favourite Things, Do-Re-Mi and So Long, Farewell.

Whether you know all the words or if you're still in the stubborn minority who haven't seen the film, The Sound of Music is entertainment for the start of the summer.

Tickets are priced from £19.50. For more information call 0844 871 7652.

PRESS RELEASE

MAY 2015

Move on up with 'Help to Buy', says Connells

Connells New Homes division is holding a 'Moving On Up' campaign this month to promote the government backed 'Help to Buy' scheme.

The scheme is available to first time buyers moving onto, or those wishing to move up, the property ladder to a maximum value of £600,000. Purchasers who qualify only require a 5% deposit and are given a 20% equity loan by the government, which is interest free for the first five years.

"'Help to Buy' is a tremendous scheme and probably the best incentive ever to be offered to the new homes market. It has been instrumental in boosting buyer confidence as well as giving prospective home owners the ability to buy the home of their dreams within budget" says Lee Clark, Branch Partner, Luton. "With property prices still rising, moving onto or moving up the property ladder could be a very astute financial decision. Continued low interest rates and reduced stamp duty payments make buying a new home a very attractive proposition. Indeed, recent research suggests buyers are £742 or 9% a year better off on average compared to those who rent (source: Halifax)."

Connells has an excellent choice of new homes offered with the 'Help to Buy' scheme – everything from studio apartments to five bedroom luxury detached homes:

Lee continues, "I would urge anyone who has been thinking of purchasing a property to contact their local Connells branch to determine if you qualify for 'Help to Buy' and see what new homes are available for you to view."

LOCAL WORLD

What is the crucial element your agency needs to be successful?
Calls to value a property...

What is the main reason a person makes 'That Call?'
Branding...

Within the property sector we know the importance of brand, brand message and brand exposure has on the decision making process of a perspective vendor or landlord.

Be it 'Direct' or 'Subliminal', branding is the key driver for potential customers when deciding which 3 agents (The national average) they call to appraise their property.

We also know that regardless of your political view point the Conservative majority victory last week and the eradication of a 'New' coalition will bring stability and confidence to the market.

Julian Berry | 07800 534095 | julian.berry@localworld.co.uk

This will undoubtedly result in an increase of new instructions entering the market.

It is now imperative to put your brand in front of as many of these perspective clients as possible so you can benefit from this very welcome late spring uplift to the market.

How can we help?

At Luton on Sunday we have a substantial array of Traditional Online, Social Media and Offline Print products to promote your brand, both creatively and as you can see from our audience statistics, reaching the widest possible audience of 'Active' customers prior to them making 'that call'.

Our team here are experts in digital and print marketing and will be able to advise and partner with you to plan a campaign to fully utilise this opportunity.

Please contact me today to discuss in more detail julian.berry@localworld.co.uk

THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (ST THOMAS'S ROAD)
(TEMPORARY WAITING REGULATIONS) ORDER 2015

NOTICE is hereby given that on 11th May 2015 Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, made the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 as amended.

The Order will come into operation on 18th May 2015 for a period of 18 months. Specific times and dates will be signed locally. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs are displayed.

The effect of the Order is to allow for the demolition of the old building and construction of the new school to take place. To facilitate these works the Council intends to temporarily introduce waiting restrictions as described in Schedule 2 below to assist with traffic movement in and out of the construction site. In addition a bus stop clearway will be introduced to facilitate buses and coaches serving the school. The Order is intended to create a window for the works to be done within the dates described as above. Specific times and dates and any diversion routes will be signed locally and site operatives will be in attendance when required.

The purpose of the Order is to facilitate the movement of construction vehicles in connection with Stopsley High School expansion works.

Access will be maintained as best as possible to properties and off street parking areas where this may be done safely and diversions for traffic will be marked by signs and site operatives.

MOTORING NEWS

Enjoy Ford's the all-new Galaxy from under £26,500

Ford Motor Company has announced that the all-new Galaxy will be available with all-wheel drive. Ford's Intelligent All-Wheel Drive system delivers enhanced traction and road-holding with a seamless transition between front-wheel drive and all-wheel drive performance to provide a more secure footing, especially in slippery conditions.

Measuring how the car's wheels are gripping the road surface every 16 milliseconds – 20 times quicker than it takes to blink – the system can send up to 100 per cent of engine torque to the front or rear wheels, and make required adjustments in just 100 milliseconds. By only delivering torque where and when it is needed, Intelligent AWD has minimal impact on fuel economy and CO2 emissions compared with permanent four-wheel drive systems.

Ford is expanding the number of vehicles available with AWD. First available on Kuga, it is also available on the all-new Mondeo

IN A GALAXY NOT SO FAR AWAY: The new Ford is available to order now and S-MAX and will be offered on the Edge SUV later this year.

The all-new Galaxy's Intelligent AWD is always on. The primary goal of Intelligent AWD at low speeds is to improve traction. If, for example, the front of the vehicle is on ice and the rear is not, the all-wheel-drive system can send all the torque the powertrain can produce to the rear, putting power where the driver needs it.

At speeds above 18mph Intelligent AWD is tuned to improve driving feel, handling and responses using information from body control, braking, gearbox and the Electronic Power Assisted Steering. By sending torque to the rear wheels when cornering at speed, the system can help reduce understeer – those situations when a vehicle's momentum causes it to continue straight instead of following the driver's intended path.

The all-new Galaxy offers Intelligent AWD with the 150PS 2.0-litre TDCi diesel engine and six-speed manual transmission, and with the 180PS 2.0-litre TDCi engine and six-speed PowerShift automatic transmission. Galaxy can also be equipped with a 120PS version of the 2.0-litre TDCi engine, and Ford's new 210PS 2.0-litre TDCi bi-turbo diesel engine that offers enhanced responsiveness and 450Nm of torque from 2,000 rpm.

Ford also today announced prices for the all-new Galaxy. Available to order now in Zetec, Titanium and Titanium X series, it will start from £26,445.

COVERCAR

VW Scirocco

Take a look inside . . .

Volkswagen has updated the Scirocco, although you'd be forgiven for not noticing. There's some subtle styling tweaks and some modest interior changes but the bigger story is more power across the board coupled with better economy.

At the top of the range, the powerhouse Scirocco R gets an entirely different engine. It's still a 2.0-litre turbo driving the front wheels, but power now goes up to 280PS, up 15PS on the old unit. The other petrol engines comprise a 1.4-litre petrol with 125PS, and a 2.0-litre 180PS unit which replaces the previous 1.4-litre 160PS powerplant.

The previous 210PS 2.0-litre TSI is given a shot in the arm to now generate 220PS. Two diesel engines are offered, both 2.0-litre units, with either 150 or 184PS. Depending on power output, both petrol and diesel engines come with a choice of six-speed manual and six or seven-speed DSG gearboxes.

Otherwise, things are much as before. The chassis remains unchanged and that'll be good news for those looking for a genuinely competent handler.

No, the Scirocco has never been quite as entertaining as, say, a Renaultsport Megane at the absolute limit but the deal has always been that owners would sacrifice 10 per cent of outright ability for 50 per cent better quality.

If it ain't broke, don't facelift it has seemed to be the mantra as far as the Scirocco goes and most onlookers wouldn't be able to spot the differences to the latest version unless they had two cars parked next to each other and a good amount of time.

The Volkswagen Scirocco was a formula that didn't need wholesale changes and with this product update, it hasn't really got them. The under-bonnet updates are well worthwhile though, offering more power across the board teamed with better efficiency.

The Scirocco's formula has endured, with a notable hiatus, since 1974. Despite times changing, the basic premise hasn't. If you want a coupe that looks good, is well screwed together and which isn't going to cost a fortune to run, Volkswagen has your back.

SPURS ACE: Nathan Oduwa

Tottenham prospect says Town spell was 'eye opener'

HATTERS

NATHAN Oduwa described his first taste of senior football with Luton Town as an 'amazing experience' after returning to Premier League big boys Tottenham Hotspur.

The 19-year-old winger signed on loan for the Hatters on Transfer Deadline Day in February and made 11 appearances – eight of those from the bench – as Town were ultimately unsuccessful in their bid to make the League Two play-offs.

Oduwa found the challenges of playing in the Football League to be a world away from U21 football at White Hart Lane, describing his time at Luton as an eye opener on Tottenham's official website.

He said: "It was an amazing experience playing in a men's team week in, week out, fighting for promotion and playing in front of a big crowd.

"You can see that the games are more important at senior level because you have people fighting for their lives, paying bills and everything, so every point counts, everything counts.

"I would also say the tempo is more aggressive and it's a higher tempo than U21s football, especially when you've got 10,000 fans cheering your name. When that happens you just feel like saying to yourself 'I'm a part of this' and you know you have to do something with the ball every time you get it."

Spending much of his spell on the bench under Still also proved to be an important part of Oduwa's football education.

"Being out of the team was hard to deal with but that's something where you've got to learn how to keep your head down and keep working because the manager is just finding the best players that he needs to get him the three points," he said.

"If he feels those players are going to do it then that's the manager's choice.

"All I can do is just keep working in training, keep working hard and try to prove to him that I can help the cause.

"My first loan experience has been a big eye-opener, finding out what it's like to be around a senior team on a matchday after a loss or a win, and I hope that in some way I've been able to contribute something positive to Luton's season.

"There were some big learning points that I took from it.

"Sadly we didn't make the play-offs but the fans were fantastic.

I loved every minute of it and it was a good experience for me personally."

Norfolk defeat sends Beds out of Unicorns Trophy

CRICKET

A BATTING collapse ended Bedfordshire's interest in the Unicorns Knock-Out Trophy as they went down by six wickets to Norfolk on Sunday.

The county needed a victory and for favourable results elsewhere to remain in the hunt for a quarter final spot but they couldn't hold up their end of the bargain as they were bowled out for just 122 at Manor Park in Horsford.

Batting first, Bedfordshire slumped to 33-4 as all of the top four were removed by Norfolk's Ben France.

Wickets continued to tumble and they were 76-9 at one stage before a last wicket stand of 46 – the highest partnership of the entire innings – dragged the visitors to above three figures.

Andy Reynoldson provided the sole resistance and finished unbeaten on 61 with opener Charlie Thurston's 14 the next best score and the only other innings in double figures.

France finished with figures of 4-31 and Bedfordshire's total was nowhere near competitive enough.

Norfolk openers James Spelman and France then put on 42 for the first wicket to put the hosts well on course before the latter was caught by Nick Barden off the bowling of Colin Griggs.

Griggs took two further wickets to finish with a record of 3-34 but the result was never in doubt.

Beds, who were skippered by James Middlebrook again after the all-rounder missed the first two games due to a short term deal with Yorkshire, have now slipped to the bottom of their five team pool and have no matches left to play.

They will have an early chance for revenge when the three day season begins on May 24, as Norfolk will be the visitors to Luton Town & Indians CC for the opening game in the Unicorns Championship Eastern Division.

Return of Pelly will be like new Hatters signing

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

THE return of Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu next season will be like a new Luton Town signing, according to midfielder Nathan Doyle.

The injury-stricken former West Ham United youth made just 16 league appearances this term – and five of them came during a perfect winning October run in League Two.

After that Ruddock Mpanzu only made three further fourth tier outings all season and the Hatters were never quite the same force, without his pace and box-to-box style.

Both attributes were things that player of the season Doyle noticed early on after signing for the club in September.

"Pelly Mpanzu has been injured for most of the season but that will be like having a new signing," said the former Bradford City ace, adding: "He's been massively missed this year.

"When I first came I thought, what a player he is. For him to get the injury that he's had is unfortunate but if we get him right for pre-season we'll see what will happen."

Injuries ravaged Town's squad all season and Doyle too was absent for nine games with a knee problem during February and March when their promotion campaign hit the skids, losing seven times to slip out of the play-off spaces, never to recover. "It's not nice to have injuries in the squad.

"When you look at the teams at the top I bet they rarely had any long term injuries," the midfielder said.

"We've had a lot of injuries and I know it's not an excuse but it's one of those things where you do look at the teams [that finished] above you and think, are they really better than us? Not really.

"Have they ground out results where we haven't? Probably, but we'll just have to take it to them next season, whoever is here, and hopefully have a professionalism to go and do it.

"Over the course of the season you do wonder what if and reflect back but, with the rest that we have, I think all the players should reflect on how the season has gone and wonder how they can improve because I'll certainly be doing it.

"I'm sure everyone at the football club will be doing it, so hopefully we can do that and get better next year."

He added: "We'll come back fitter, stronger and better and with a know-how of how to deal with the league.

"It's a little disappointing that we couldn't stay in the play-off spots and that automatic promotion position, but it was our first season in the league for a long while."

Barton thrash Biggleswade Town to win Senior Cup final

FOOTBALL

BARTON Rovers lifted the Bedfordshire Senior Cup after thrashing Biggleswade Town 4-0 in a one-sided final at Kenilworth Road on Tuesday evening.

Rovers, beaten finalists in the Southern League Division One Central play-off final, were too good for a side who play a level above them in the Southern Premier Division.

Tuki Tayali gave Barton the lead and they were 2-0 up at half-time after an own goal, although Rovers' Connor Vincent may claim it.

Vincent's shot initially struck a post but it then came off the unfortunate Ian Brown in the Biggleswade goal and back into the net.

Ben Sawyer made it 3-0 after the break with a fine strike which was the pick of the game's goals, a lovely curling effort which flew into the back of the net.

Rhys Hoenes added further gloss to the scoreline with the fourth 11 minutes from time, courtesy of a volley.

It was the club's first Senior Cup Final success since 1999 and their eighth ever victory in the county competition.

They saw off Ampthill Town, AFC Dunstable and Arlesey Town to reach the final, while Biggleswade beat Luton Town's development side in the last four.

This season's edition of the cup was the 116th in history.

CASTING THE NET: John Still

The search has begun

BY DAN PALMER

sport@lismedia.co.uk

LUTON Town boss John Still says the search for Hatters reinforcements is already well underway as he plots how to bounce back from this season's disappointment.

The 65-year-old released seven players last week and placed six more on the transfer list as part of a bid to freshen up his ranks.

It will be seen as a necessary cull after Luton missed out on even a play-off spot in League Two after spending much of the season looking like strong contenders for automatic promotion.

Town fans can expect a busy summer and Still is prepared to cast the net wide to attract the players he wants.

Speaking in a Luton Town YouTube video, he said: "Matches are still on in Scotland which we're going to watch, and we'll be looking at the play-off matches too.

"I think by mid May all the targets will have been identified and we'll be making those moves.

"There are many twists and turns in the transfer business and you just have to roll with it."

Strikers Alex Wall and Charlie Walker were both released as part of Still's clear-out along with midfielder Jim Stevenson.

Meanwhile, youngsters Kynan Isaac, Ian Rees, Charlie Smith and defender Brett Longden have all been sent to the exits too while Curtley Williams, Fraser Franks, Alex Lacey, Ross Lafayette, Andy Parry and Matthew Robinson have been transfer listed.

One player who has been linked with the Hatters is 27-year-old midfielder Nicky Deverdics, currently on the books of Dover Athletic.
